Dear Ali Malik,

Re: Digital Learning for Beginner Driver Education (BDE) Curriculum
Submission: TheDriverX Digital BDE

The Ministry of Transportation (MTO) has completed a review of the digital Learning Management System (LMS) curriculum submitted by TheDriverX company for the BDE program. We are pleased to advise that your digital The DriverX Digital BDE curriculum meets the requirements set out in the BDE Curriculum Standards. Your curriculum has been approved for 20 hours of digital learning and 10 hours of flexible learning.

The course must be delivered with the sequence, design and content of the curriculum as approved by the ministry. This means that each student is required to start the beginning of the course and complete the course following the sequence as approved under the BDE Curriculum Standards.

If another ministry-approved BDE Course Provider would like to adopt this curriculum, it is important that you provide them with a proof of purchase agreement (i.e. letter, certificate) which proves that they purchased the curriculum from you, and it should include digital curriculum type (LMS) and digital curriculum hours (including flexible instruction). Proof of purchase agreement(s) shall be uploaded to the BDE system by the ministry-approved BDE Course Provider adopting the curriculum. This approval supports the ministry's ongoing efforts to meet the highest quality standards for the BDE Program. Should you wish to discuss further, please contact me at 647-302-9147 or at tara.mccord@ontario.ca.

Sincerely,
